Breast cancer was just another obstacle I had to fight.

— DIANE, SURVIVOR

As a young mother, a spinal cord injury left Diane with a disability. And at 40, she was first in her family to be diagnosed with breast cancer. She calls the cancer her wake-up call, and credits early detection with still being alive today.

Breast cancer is the most common cancer in women. And living with a disability doesn’t make you immune. If you’re over 40, check your breasts regularly, and have a mammogram and a clinical exam every 1–2 years.
